PROJECT BRIEF

On a private 11.2-hectare island at the northern edge of the Maldives, Alila Hotel Resort is a sanctuary of pool villas reached only by a 45-minute seaplane flight from Malé. Lush tropical greenery, turquoise lagoons and abundant marine life frame a retreat where seclusion and quiet luxury define every moment.

Across the resort's open-air terraces, private pool decks and oceanfront lounges, HIGOLD outdoor furniture brings refined comfort to the barefoot elegance of island life. Weather-resilient yet visually serene, each piece is built to endure salt air and equatorial sun while preserving the clean, contemporary lines the setting deserves.

The result is a seamless dialogue between architecture and nature: spaces that invite guests to unwind in the shade, dine beside the water and watch the horizon dissolve into the lagoon. HIGOLD's craftsmanship elevates the resort's outdoor living into an experience as composed as it is effortless.
