PROJECT BRIEF

Set against the unspoiled coastline of Mauritius, this beachfront resort is built around a single promise: complete, unhurried relaxation. Guests drift between the modern terrace and the open sand, pausing for a light bite, a chilled drink, or a long dinner as the island's natural surroundings unfold all around them.

HIGOLD outdoor furniture defines the rhythm of the space. Soft, generous loungers shape the terrace into an invitation to linger, while weather-ready sunloungers carry the same comfort straight onto the beach. Each piece is engineered to meet the demands of a coastal climate without ever sacrificing its refined, sculptural presence.

The result is a seamless flow from architecture to shoreline, where style and function are inseparable. With HIGOLD, every seat becomes part of the experience, turning a place of rest into a destination in its own right.
