PROJECT BRIEF

Set in one of Bonaire's most coveted corners, Villa Brass Boer — known as Kas Kunukero — is an exclusive six-bedroom retreat conceived for those who want the Caribbean at its most unhurried. Days unfold between a private magnapool, the crystalline waters just steps away, and a terrace that runs the full width of the villa, framing the island's light from sunrise to last gold.

The outdoor spaces are appointed with HIGOLD furniture chosen for the way it lives outside. The New York Swivel Single Sofa turns effortlessly toward sea or conversation, while the Armonia Corner Sofa anchors the terrace as a generous gathering place that invites guests to settle in for the afternoon.

Refined yet utterly relaxed, every piece earns its place — marrying clean contemporary lines with genuine comfort. The result is an open-air living room where the architecture of the villa and the beauty of Bonaire meet, and where luxury feels like nothing more than the freedom to slow down.
